Kilimanjaro & East Africa-Cameron M. Burns 2006 For trekkers or climbers hoping to reach the top of Kilimanjaro-one of the coveted Seven Summits-or challenge themselves on the remote spires of Mount Kenya, or explore East Africa's lesser-visited areas such as Mount Meru and the Rwenzoris of Uganda, this completely revised guide is ideal. It contains more than 50 routes, including summit walk-ups and serious technical climbs. Author Cameron Burns includes everything you need to know to plan a safe and successful visit to the region, including up-to-date trip planning information and prices, tips on transportation and places to stay, as well as the scoop on hiring outfitters and obtaining permits and visas.

Kilimanjaro-Henry Stedman 2014-03-01 Taking the reader from the dusty plains of East Africa through jungle and moorland to the glacier-clad summit of Mount Kilimanjaro, the author offers a challenging and beautiful trek to Africa's highest peak, along with city guides for the surrounding area. Climbing Kilimanjaro-Sandy Matsen Poisel 2019-09-27 Pole pole (pronounced poh-lay, poh-lay), means slowly, slowly. These words are the heartbeat of my dream to climb Kilimanjaro. My dad climbed Kilimanjaro in 1948 and used these words every time he spoke to me of his climb. He said, "Follow the pace of the guide, pole pole; slowly, slowly and you will make it to the top." Pole pole for me is not only the pace set on the mountain but how my dream was instilled in my heart...beating slowly, slowly over a lifetime until at age fifty, I heard my dad speak the words, "Sandy, you can climb Kilimanjaro, you can make it to the top. Follow the guide, pole pole, slowly, slowly." Come follow my father's footprints as he climbed Kilimanjaro in 1948. Come follow me as my dream, God's calling me, went from hesitation to reality to put my own footprints, pole pole, on top of Kilimanjaro in 2013. Read for yourself as I dared to dream, dared to climb--not just any mountain--but Mount Kilimanjaro, in Tanzania, East Africa. Kilimanjaro is the highest, free-standing mountain on the African continent, standing at 19,341 ft. high. Discover for yourself from where this dream came. Find out what the climb was like. I was changed as I dared to dream, to struggle, to find a way to climb Kilimanjaro. And, yes, I saw God on the mountain. God "stirred the pot" many times by calling me throughout my life to come see and climb her. What a journey it was leaving my footprints on Kilimanjaro! Pole pole, the journey begins.

Kissing Kilimanjaro-Daniel Dorr 2011-03-01 Mount Kilimanjaro is sometimes called "Everyman's Everest" because it is possible for a novice climber to reach the summit. And every year, more than 30,000 adventure tourists try. But for each person who goes to the mountain, there are thousands more who chat about it at cocktail parties, making plans to go...someday. That's how Daniel Dorr got started: flirting with a beautiful brunette over hot cocoa and spouting impressive plans. Six months later, he was lying on the cold gravel trail at 18,000 feet, panting and hacking in the darkness. Dorr is a typical marketing exec by day but, amped up by his re-acquaintance with a romantic interest; he gained the determination to pursue one of his lifelong dreams -- summiting Kilimanjaro. When Dorr left behind the familiarity of his weekend-warrior lifestyle in Southern California to reach the top of the 19,340-foot peak, he didn't realize he would cross a threshold to a new way of life. As he fondles expensive hi-tech gear, gets vaccinated for the jungle, travels local-style across East Africa, and vomits on top of the African continent, readers share in the rewards, both large and small, of reaching for personal fulfillment through adventure travel.

Kilimanjaro and Mount Kenya-Cameron Burns 1998 Cameron Burns presents a detailed guide to thirty of the major routes for climbers in the East African mountains of Kilimanjaro and Mount Kenya. '

Protected Areas in Northern Tanzania-Jeffrey O. Durrant 2020-05-21 Northern Tanzania is an important and diverse ecological and cultural region with many protected lands. This book, Protected Areas in Northern Tanzania, brings to the forefront research on significant issues and developments in conservation and management in national parks and protected lands in northern Tanzania. The book draws attention to issues at the intersection of conservation, tourism, and community livelihood, and several studies use geospatial technologies—Geographic Information Systems and remote sensing data and techniques—to study land use and land cover conversion. With contributions from professors at the Mweka College of African Wildlife Management located at the foot of Mount Kilimanjaro and other Tanzanian researchers, the book provides important perspectives of local experts and practitioners. Protected Areas in Northern Tanzania provides a significant contribution in research and technological advancement in the areas of wildlife conservation and protected land management throughout this critical region.

Kissing Kibo-Sheree Marshall 2011-04 As a single, female, African American, over-forty, divorcee, the author had an epiphany: She had better start living her life. Having lost both parents early in life, she reasoned that she had many more years behind her than left in front of her. That meant that she would embark on doing all of the things she'd ever dreamt of doing. Having never so much as camped out for longer than a day, she decided to take a trip far from the concrete confines of her urban life, and embark on a solo sojourn with Mother Nature to the top of Mount Kilimanjaro, in Tanzania, East Africa. She had no earthly idea what to expect; not even a clue of whether she could survive at an altitude of 9,000 feet, much less the height of Mount Kilimanjaro at 19,340 feet. Even so, she made the journey across the Atlantic to the top of the highest free-standing mountain in the world. Join the author on this journey as you read her first-person account, and her insight into how you, too, can make a successful trek to the top of Mount Kilimanjaro.

Architect Darling-Walter John Trowbridge 2012-05-17 This is a romantic suspense novel involving an American Architect who arrived in Dar-es-Salam, Tanzania, East Africa, to be the Site Architect for the construction of the University College in Tanzania. He falls in love with a beautiful Goan girl from the former Portuguese colony of Goa in Indian, but their love is forbidden as it violates social custom and is vigorously resisted by the girl's father. Their affair evolves through various secret meetings, visits to historic sites, climbing Mount Kilimanjaro, the rise of terrorism in East Africa, and safaris through some of the world's greatest big game animal parks. It reaches a climax in their attempt to get married in a Catholic Church in the old Portuguese city of Mombasa in Kenya with the girl's father in hot pursuit, and the couple's struggle to escape amid the man's malaria attack and the bombing of the US Embassy.

The Wings of Kilimanjaro-Alex Tannen 2014-01-03 Exploding tyres on a fully-laden bus. Months without electricity on Zanzibar. Stuck for a week in the provincial back of beyond. Alex Tannen's travels through East Africa were a challenge for nerves, timetables, and his back. His adventures were not climbing Kilimanjaro or confronting wild beasts in the Serengeti, but rather the sheer job of getting from A to B. Some places he managed to reach, albeit painstakingly - others he had trouble leaving. It took three attempts to board the legendary German colonial steamship Liemba on Lake Tanganyika. Some tickets had no corresponding buses. If Plan B didn't work, surely Plan E would. Engine failures, overfilled cabins and delays which were not measured in hours were all factored in - as was the hard-earned Kilimanjaro beer on successful arrival. His conclusion after journeys in group taxis, on flat-bed trucks and in air-conditioned luxury buses: obscure airlines are statistically the safest local transport. A road movie in 16 chapters and 14 pictures.

Wild Edens-Joseph James Shomon 1998 Featuring twenty-six color and thirty-five black-and-white photographs, a fascinating look at Africa's great game parks, home to thousands of the world's most spectacular--and endangered--wildlife, describes their topography, ecology, and the numerous threats they face. UP.

Kilimanjaro-Henry Stedman 2003 This new guide is written in the proven Trailblazer style--with detailed walking maps showing hiking times, points of interest, and gradients.

East Africa-Geoff Crowther 1994 Now in its third edition, this guide to East Africa - covering Burundi, Kenya, Rwanda, Uganda, Tanzania and Zaire - provides extensive political and cultural background on the region, as well as practical travel advice.

Snow on the Equator-H.W. Tilman 2015-09-17 To those who went to the War straight from school and survived it, the problem of what to do afterwards was peculiarly difficult.' For H.W. 'Bill' Tilman, the solution lay in Africa: in gold prospecting, mountaineering and a 3,000-mile bicycle ride across the continent. Tilman was one of the greatest adventurers of his time, a pioneering climber and sailor who held exploration above all else. He made first ascents throughout the Himalaya, attempted Mount Everest, and sailed into the Arctic Circle. For Tilman, the goal was always to explore, to see new places, to discover rather than conquer. First published in 1937, Snow on the Equator chronicles Tilman's early adventures; his transition from East African coffee planter to famed mountaineer. After World War I, Tilman left for Africa, where he grew coffee, prospected for gold and met Eric Shipton, the two beginning their famed mountaineering partnership, traversing Mount Kenya and climbing Kilimanjaro and Ruwenzori. Tilman eventually left Africa in typically adventurous style via a 3,000-mile solo bicycle ride across the continent--all recounted here in splendidly funny style. Tilman is one of the greatest of all travel writers. His books are well-informed and keenly observed, concerned with places and people as much as summits and achievements. They are full of humour and anecdotes and are frequently hilarious. He is part of the great British tradition of comic writing and there is nobody else quite like him.

Biggs on Finance, Economics, and the Stock Market-Barton Biggs 2014-03-17 Released to the public for the first time, writings by the incomparable Barton Biggs Long considered one of the best brains on Wall Street, Barton Biggs acquired the stature of a legend within his lifetime. Among his many coups, he accurately called the rise and fall of the dot-com market, and was an energetic promoter of emerging markets, including China, well before American businesses began flocking there—and he made vast fortunes for his clients, in the process. But, as this fascinating book confirms, it wasn't Biggs's genius as a market analyst and hedge fund manager alone that made him special. The product of a keen and broad-ranging intellect in full command of his subjects—and the English language—the letters compiled in this volume leave no doubt that Barton Biggs was one of the most interesting observers of Wall Street, the financial world, and the human comedy, ever to set pen to paper. Released from Morgan Stanley's archives and made public for the first time, the letters compiled in this volume add new luster to Biggs's reputation as a first-class finance author Address the most essential aspects of high-frequency trading, from formulation of ideas to performance evaluation Shares Biggs's fascinating insights and uncannily accurate predictions about an array of economic and financial topics, liberally peppered with historical references and wry humor Organized thematically, the letters showcase Barton Biggs's observations on finance, economics and the stock market, from 1980 to 2003

Mountain Road-Hoover Liddell 2011-12-20 In traversing the earth and living with the wilderness from Africa to the California Sierras, author Hoover Liddell came to realize the great energy of youth as we struggle to educate our planet and ourselves. Mountain Road is his journey of life and travel through the planet's cities and towns as well as his time in San Francisco and living inside its schools. From a mountain road out of Africa, humankind continues its journey into a timeless universe. Human freedom is not dwelling in the past or the future but in the remarkableness and freshness of the present, where the adventure is. His journey from the Nigerian rainforests and desert across Africa through the Serengeti plains and the mountain road of Kilimanjaro takes him to the mountains of the Sierras. In his expeditions he discovers moments of vibrant energy and days of staying alive that are more profound than all the years of teaching in the schools. He finds the wilderness empowers us to find our own way and deepens our capabilities as we educate ourselves and the earth. Of what meaning is school or life itself if we are not serious and motivated for the adventure to educate the planet?
